

Reserve named 'Best Lake Community of the Year'

FOR THE JOURNAL

SUNSET — The Reserve at Lake Keowee has been named Best Lake Community of the Year in the 2012 Bliss Awards conducted by Real Estate Scorecard, an independent real estate community review website.

Winners are selected every January from on-site evaluations made by Real Estate Scorecard's staff, feedback from surveying each community's own members and by public voting through the Real Estate Scorecard website.

"The Reserve at Lake Keowee was chosen because of the complete lake lifestyle this master planned community offers property owners," said Margie Casey, founder of Real Estate Scorecard.

"... Life on the lake includes fishing, water skiing and jet skiing. Anglers catch largemouth bass and trout in this fresh water mountain lake. During the summer months, the water is warm making the lake a wonderful natural swimming pool. The Blue Ridge Mountains in the backdrop will compete for your attention at this master planned community," Casey continued.

"The Reserve at Lake Keowee offers a unique feature called Multi-Generational Membership. This extends membership privileges to property owners' parents, children and grandchildren. The Reserve at Lake Keowee is a classic example of Southern hospitality, offering a generous Discovery Package to serious buyers."
