A perfect day for leisure

Clemson University freshman Sawyer Hipp, left, and fellow students Logan Cones, bottom left, and Craig Houghton play a game of disc golf during Steve Simoneaux's leisure skills class on Tuesday afternoon at the Campus Beach and Recreation Area. Despite cloud cover, temperatures are expected to creep toward springlike again today, with a predicted high of 73 degrees. To check the forecast for the rest of the week, turn to page A2.

PHOTOS BY JESSICA NELMS | THE JOURNAL