LOOKING BACK

PHOTO COURTESY OF MARI NOORAI AND NORA ROOCHE FIELD

Bridge to nowhere?

The old Nimmons Bridge over what had been the Keowee River is pictured just before its demise, which came with the impoundment of Lake Keowee. The bridge was a major span used by farmers and sharecroppers in the valley for more than six decades.