Celebrity pairings announced for BMW

THE JOURNAL STAFF

GREENVILLE — The celebrity course rotations for this week's BWM Charity Pro-Am golf tournament were recently released, along with a new celebrity announcement in former Seinfield actor and Family Feud host John O'Hurley.

The tournament will begin Thursday and run through Sunday at The Reserve at Lake Keowee in Sunset, Thornblade Club and the Greenville Country Club's Chanticleer course.

A total of 10 former Clemson golfers, five of whom were All-Americans, are also in the field. They are Tommy Biershenk, Brian Duncan, Danny Ellis, Matt Hendrix, Kevin Johnson, Phillip Mollica, Sam Saunders, Ben Martin, Brent Delahoussaye and Stephen Poole.

The 10 former Clemson players in the field tie for the most in one tournament in history. Ten former Tigers played in the same event last year.

Other notable participants include Clemson basketball coach Brad Brownell and Seneca native Drew Ernst.

Tickets for the event are available at bmwcharitygolf.com. The complete purchase price can be donated to one of the tournament's numerous charities.

The celebrity rotation is as follows.
