Coming or going?

JESSICA NELMS | THE JOURNAL

A sign that the end of summer is upon us. A large houseboat sits at the South Cove Park boat ramp having been removed for the summer. Although many boats are headed for their winter homes, the lakes remain warm and they will soon become a great place from which to enjoy the colors of fall.