Friday, June 19, 2009 Daily Journal • Daily Messenger

Duke Energy launches 5-year relicensing process

Jessica Nelms/Staff

Jenn Huff, project manager for Duke Energy's relicensing of the Keowee-Toxaway Project, outlines plans to Rick Huffman during a Thursday afternoon open house at Duke's World of Energy. The open house was the official launch of the five-year relicensing process. The current license to operate hydroelectric stations on Lakes Keowee and Jocassee expires in 2016.