

Fazio-designed golf course at The Cliffs at Keowee Springs named on of America's best private courses

SIX MILE, S.C. – Recognized as one of the most versatile designs in Tom Fazio's wide repertoire of award-winning golf courses, The Cliffs at Keowee Springs was named one of America's Best New Private Courses by Golf Digest Magazine. The annual ranking appears in the January 2010 issue of Golf Digest Magazine and on www.golfdigest.com.

Revered golf architect Tom Fazio designed this unique layout to return to the Clubhouse or Turnhouse in six-hole intervals. The beautiful, family-friendly course offers family tees, but experienced golfers should not be fooled. The back tees are every bit the championship golf experience one would expect from famed designer Tom Fazio.

Tom Fazio explains, "As a father of six, designing a championship-caliber course that presents a challenge for all skill sets and yet is ideal for all members of the family, has been one of my most enjoyable endeavors. The six-hole format is particularly convenient for those with busy schedules."

A challenging and rewarding experience for golfers of all ages and skill levels, The Keowee Springs golf course is the second Tom Fazio golf design available to Cliffs members. In fact, The Cliffs is the only community in the country to offers its members two Jack Nicklaus Signature Golf Courses and two Tom Fazio designs. Opened in September 2008, The Cliffs at Keowee Springs golf course plays 7,100 yards from the championship tees and features the distinction of having two turns at six-hole increments. Holes two and 16 are the signature holes for this course.

"It is an honor that Golf Digest recognized The Cliffs a Keowee Springs as one if the Best New Courses in America," said John Mitchell, The Cliffs at Keowee Springs PGA Professional and General Manager. "The Keowee Springs design showcases a balance of playability and challenge with tees starting at 4600 to 7100 yards. Combined with its setting at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Keowee Springs offers a golf experience that you want every time."

This mountain-lake course is also home to the International Institute of Golf, a state-of-the-art teaching academy led by renowned Australian instructors Steve Bann and Dale Lynch, whose clients include PGA TOUR Professional Geoff Ogilvy, Stuart Applebee, Mathew Goggin, Aaron Baddeley, Robert Allenby and KJ Choi. Located on the shore of pristine Lake Keowee in the Blue Ridge Mountains, The Cliffs at Keowee Springs (www.discoverkeoweesprings.com) spans 1,600 acres and offers a variety of waterfront, water view, and golf course home sites and turnkey residences.
