LOOKING BACK

PHOTO COURTESY OF HAROLD ALEXANDER

Forming Lake Jocassee

The Horse Pasture is pictured in approximately 1968. The tree line is the high water level of Lake Jocassee, and the Toxaway River is shown in the lower front portion of the picture. Horsepasture River is in the middle. Workers formed the Horse Pasture between the rivers while all the other land was cleared in preparation for creating the lake.