

JESSICA NELMS | THE JOURNAL

Fossils up close

Sammy Graham, 5, uses a magnifying glass to look for fossils in one of the exhibits on display at the The Bob Campbell Geology Museum on Friday morning. He and his mother, Jacqueline Graham, drove from Easley to visit the museum at the South Carolina Botanical Gardens at Clemson University.