Heritage Center hosts film series

WALHALLA — The Oconee Alliance has donated a Green Screen collection of DVDs to the Oconee County Public Library and public showings of the collection continue monthly at the Oconee Heritage Center on the last Tuesdays of each month.

These independent films offer insights about what is happening in the world and the consequences faced in local communities. DVDs in the collection that have already been shown are: Wal-mart: The High Price of Low Cost; The Future of Food; A Crude Awakening: The End of Oil; Who Killed the Electric Car?; and An Inconvenient Truth. Still to be shown are: June 30, A Convenient Truth: Urban Solutions from Brazil; July 28, Trashed; Aug. 25, Why We Fight; Sept. 29, The Renewal Project; Oct. 27, Super-Size Me; and Nov. 24, Sicko.

Yet to be scheduled are: Flow: How did corporations steal our water?; ABC PrimeTime: E-Waste; and The Story of Stuff.

All movies are shown at 7 p.m. A donation is encouraged. Free popcorn is provided.
