

Home prices fall

Home prices fell in December for a fourth straight month in most major U.S. cities, as modest sales gains have yet to lift prices. The Standard & Poor's/Case-Shiller home-price index shows prices dropped in 18 of the 20 cities tracked. The steepest declines were in Atlanta, Chicago and Detroit. Only Miami and Phoenix logged increases.