SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

SALEM — Keowee Key Ladies Golf Association 18 recently held its annual charity golf day that supported Safe Harbor.

"We were honored to be part of the Oconee County initiative to open a local shelter as everyone deserves a home where violence is not a common occurrence," Ladies Golf representative Laura Noonan said.

Ninety golfers participated in the event, and 98 attended the luncheon that followed. Golfers from Chickasaw Point, The Cliffs, Clemson and Cross Creek participated.

Special guests were Susan Spitzer, director of development for Safe Harbor and Becky Callahan, executive director. Also present were Sam Head and Lori Kelley of Carolinas Wealth Management who supported efforts with a corporate donation.

One Keowee Key member matched funds donated by golfers, and the $500 goal was far surpassed.

More than 70 raffle items were donated by local businesses and members of the community.

"The committee for the golf day was so proud of how supportive the community was to help those in need, and to recognize Safe Harbor and the opening of a local shelter. The Keowee Key Ladies Golf Association would like to thank everyone who helped make our efforts such a huge success, as $4,547 was raised that day," Noonan said.

The organization will become part of the Oconee Matching Funds campaign as Safe Harbor works toward its $100,000 goal by Sept. 1.
