SALEM — After losing landline phone and Internet service Tuesday morning, service was restored more quickly than expected in the Keowee Key area.

Officials at the Keowee Fire Department confirmed Wednesday morning that service was restored at approximately 6 p.m. Tuesday evening. AT&T representatives had originally said it could have taken until Wednesday for service to be restored.

It's still unclear what caused the outage, though Keowee officials suspect it may have been due to maintenance being performed by AT&T.
