Lions golf tourney a 'win' for charities

Robert Lewis, left, puts a happy face on the situation as he explains to Tom Brosnan how he missed that last putt at the Salem Lions Charities Golf Tournament held at Keowee Key golf course on May 12. Over 125 golfers added considerably to Lion's Club coffers enabling the Lions to continue providing goods and services to our communities, following their motto — WE SERVE. The tournament included a delicious meal to celebrate the efforts of the prizewinners. Co-chairs Lions Jerry Slavik and Chuck Plague said this was the most successful tourney ever.
