Oconee Community Theatre, Inc. presents 'If a Man Answers'

FOR THE JOURNAL

SENECA — Oconee Community Theatre and co-sponsors The Sterling House of Central and Cakes by Shirley present the comedy "If a Man Answers," adapted by David Rogers from the book by Winifred Wolfe. Play dates are April 8-10 and 15-17.

Here is a short summary of the hilarious plot: Chantal's Parisian mother hands her a dog-training manual as the secret recipe for making a husband happy. "You must treat him like a dog," she warns. So Chantal is soon trying such directions as: "Praise him when he is learning to fetch and carry." "Make the words 'come here' mean something pleasurable." "Be sure to frolic with your pet a part of every day." Chantal is doing fine in spite of the exotic models who swarm about her husband's studio until her friend Tina comes to visit her. Chantal confides the secret of her happy marriage to Tina, who promptly tips off Chantal's husband. Fireworks follow!

Evening curtains go up at 8 p.m. Sunday matinee starts at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $14 for adults and $8 for students/children.

Group rates are available for parties of 10 or more. Call 864-882-7700 for reservations and information.

Oconee Community Theater is a private nonprofit organization dedicated to making the fine arts available to the local community.