Reserve Foundation raises $26,000 for charities

FOR THE JOURNAL

SUNSET — At a recent dinner The Reserve at Lake Keowee Charitable Foundation presented $26,000 in funds raised over the past year to four charitable organizations serving Pickens County.

Receiving funds are: Helping Hands; Pickens County Meals on Wheels; The Parenting Place, home of Prevent Child Abuse of Pickens County; and the A.R. Lewis Elementary weekend backpack program. Funds were split equally among the organizations, with each receiving a check for $6,500.

The Reserve at Lake Keowee Charitable Foundation is a non-profit organization created to enhance the quality of life at The Reserve and in the local area while fulfilling a sense of community and philanthropy for The Reserve's members. The Foundation has four major functions, one of which is to provide outreach for neighboring communities in Pickens County.

FOR THE JOURNAL

From left, are: Lou Ann Lewis, of Meals on Wheels of Pickens County; Dawn Hooter, of A.R. Lewis Elementary; Kathryn Gravely, of The Reserve at Lake Keowee Charitable Foundation; Faye Nichols, of Prevent Child Abuse of Pickens County; and Dewey Thomas, of Helping Hands.