South Carolina Botanical Gardens events

There are other events starting in celebration of warmer months arriving. Check out these other events being held at the Botanical Gardens:

Thursday
Spring night hike
Join naturalist Lisa Wagner for an evening hike in the garden. Experience the sights, sounds and sensations of a spring evening and see the rise of the full moon, if the weather permits. Please wear walking shoes and clothing appropriate for walking in the woods.
Fee: $7 per family (up to 5) ($5 for SCBG members
Time: 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.
Location: Meets at the Discovery Center Parking Area

JESSICA NELMS | THE JOURNAL

A daffodil faces the sun at the South Carolina Botanical Gardens in Clemson.

May 3
Ready, set...grow.
Where do plants come from? The program begins with the story of Mrs. Rumphius and participants will continue learning about how a plant begins and what they need in order to grow. Each participant will plant a seed window, and will enjoy watching germination at home. Participants can also create one of a kind art using the sun's energy. Fee: $5 per participant ($4 members and volunteers) Time: 2 p.m. - 4 p.m. Location: Hanson Nature Learning Center

May 4
Hanson Nature Learning Center Open House: Spring Flowers
By May, spring flowers are well-along. Visitors can drop by to learn about some of our fascinating and beautiful spring flowers. Take a scavenger hunt sheet and head out on a journey of discovery in the Garden. There will be coloring sheets and other hands-on activities for all ages.
Fee: Free
Time: Noon - 4 p.m.
Location: Hanson Nature Learning Center

May 17
Diary of a Worm
In this program, participants will dig deep to uncover the interesting lives of worms. Children will enjoy taking an up-close look at real worms and will learn to appreciate all that these wiggly little critters do for us. While playing a game, participants can learn about compost and each participant will create his/her own miniature worm bin to take home. Please register at least three days in advance. Fee: $7 per participant ($6 members and volunteers) Time: 2 p.m. - 4 p.m. Location: Hanson Nature Learning Center

JESSICA NELMS | THE JOURNAL

Carol and Len Rock relax with a couple of books in the shade at the South Carolina Botanical Gardens in Clemson.

May 30
Make decorative stepping stones
Back by popular demand, Barbara Chapman will teach the science and artistry of making a decorative stepping stone. Play with concrete and delicate foliage to make a work of beauty for your garden. Please preregister at least one week in advance.
Fee: $35 ($30 members & volunteers)
Time: 10 a.m. – noon
Location: Hanson Nature Learning Center