Tips For Inland Fishing In South Carolina

By Mike Relahs, October 5, 2010 10:31 am

You Need A Fishing Trip
Experience One Of America's Best Kept Fishing Secrets. Find Out More www.VisitReddIng.com/Fishing_Trips

Hartwell Fishing Charters
Steve Crenshaw Guide Service
Professional Guided Fishing Trips
LakeHartwellFishingCharters.com

Sam Rayburn Fishing Guide
Bass fishing and Crappie fishing
Pontoon for Large Crappie Groups samrayburnfishingguide.com

Ads by Google

The fishing is certainly good in the Palmetto State. With over 1,500 lakes and ponds to choose from, you may have a hard time in deciding where you want to fish and what kind of fish you would like to catch. What will you need to know about inland fishing in South Carolina?

One of the best places in the Palmettos state to visit for excellent fishing opportunities is the upstate. This is the upper part of the state, located at the foothills of the mountains. Not only is it beautiful country. It is loaded with many lakes and ponds waiting for you to drop in your line. Keep in mind there are over 1500 lakes to choose from in this state.

Lake Keowee is located in Oconee County and is indeed one of the most popular fishing lakes in this state. You will have plenty to choose from in the type of fish you would like to catch at Lake Keowee like striped bass, crappy, and bream. You can find places to to camp and fish at as well. Boating opportunities at Lake Keowee are awesome.

Do you like the taste of fresh fried trout? Lake Jocassee, also located in Oconee County, is brimming with a variety of species of trout. You will have a great time at this lake just due to exquisite scenery. Jocassee has some of the clearest and cleanest waters you could ask for. Make sure to plan a camping and fishing trip to this wonderful lake.

Catfishing is a popular type of sport fishing. Hundreds of places are on the hot spot list for catching these sometimes very large fish. For some great catfishing, you should visit Lake Greenwood or Lake Murray. One way to really enjoy catfishing is by fishing at night. A night of this type of fishing with family or friends will be a night you will never forget.

Are you a fisherman that prefers fishing for walleye? These toothy fish can be caught using all sorts of bait because they will eat most anything that does not eat them first. Walleye live in deep waters, so the lakes that are deepest is the best place to fish for them. The Richard B. Russell Lake set the record for walleye and would be a good place to start fishing.

Many people love to take off for as weekend of fishing. There is just something awesome about being on a lake, listening to the frogs and crickets while waiting for bite on your line. Nothing can compare to the inland fishing in South Carolina for these very reasons. Take your next fishing trip in the upstate.

Tired of your constantly re-anchoring your boat because your rope anchor drags around, STOP THE FRUSTRATION... check out the revolutionary shallow water anchors