SUNDAY, OCTOBER 18, 2009 THE GREENVILLE NEWS

Upstate drought declared over

By Anna Simon
CLEMSON BUREAU
asimon@greenvillenews.com

More soaking rain has brought drought to an end in the Upstate, the state Climatologist's Office says.

A status of incipient drought was downgraded to no drought status for Greenville, Spartanburg, Cherokee, Union, Laurens, Newberry, Anderson, Abbeville, Greenwood, McCormick, Edgefield and Saluda counties.

Oconee and Pickens had been removed earlier.