

Working up some warmth

Above: Crews at South Cove Park in Seneca spend a cold Monday morning performing maintenance on unused campsites.

Left: Construction crews are hard at work this chilly season making renovations to the second floor of the old portion of Oconee Medical Center. The projected completion of the NewLife Center for Joint Health is this spring. Currently, services are being provided in the new patient tower.

Jessica Nelms/Staff