SENECA — Duke Energy's World of Energy will host a free outdoor movie night tonight at its point on Lake Keowee, featuring the latest Star Wars film, "Rogue One: A Star Wars Story." Showtime is 9 p.m.

This is the seventh year the World of Energy and the Oconee Nuclear Station have hosted outdoor movies for the community.

"It's just another popular way we add to Duke Energy's drive to strengthen our community," World of Energy manager Chris Rimel said. "It's free. The World of Energy's lake point is a perfect venue for a summertime movie night, as it has been for the last eight years. We welcome our neighbors."

Attendees are encouraged to bring blankets and chairs for seating, and guests can also watch the movie from their boats on the Lake Keowee shoreline near the S.C. Highway 130 bridge at Oconee Nuclear Station. Food and drinks are allowed, and concessions are available for purchase from local Boy Scout Troop 120.

Oconee Nuclear Station's United Way Committee will sell snow cones. All purchases support these local organizations.

No alcoholic beverages are permitted on the grounds, and pets must be leashed. Parking is available at the World of Energy, with additional parking available across the street from the World of Energy entrance on S.C. 130.

Rimel said to look for directional road signs. Complimentary shuttle service from the overflow parking area to the World of Energy will be provided, as well as transportation to the lake's peninsula.
