

RED LOCKS TO TAKE OFF (E-1)
Top Guns Mini-Storps, Salem
Beginning on December 23, 2017
Ending on December 29, 2017
Cancelled on December 21, 2017 at 12:17 PM

Clemson graduate and defensive lineman Christian Wilkins joins in a cadence count at the end of the Clemson graduation in Littlejohn Coliseum on Thursday morning. PHOTOS BY KEN RUINARD/INDEPENDENT MAIL

CLEMSON POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

Clemson University graduates picked up 1,376 degrees during two ceremonies in Littlejohn Coliseum on Thursday. There were 1,097 bachelor's and 279 master's degrees awarded, according to the University News Services. Alumni Association President Ret. Col. Sandy Edge drew some cheers when he reminded the audience and graduates, some of them football players, of the last National Championship game in Tampa, when the team and alumni had faith that the Tigers would score in the last two minutes and seven seconds to win.

Family and friends of Clemson University graduates look up at the jumbo video screen to watch them prepare to enter the arena.